Salad Supper May 22 To Be Joyous

UMW is offering a wonderful time of friendship and inspiration at its annual Salad Supper at 6 pm Tuesday, May 22, in Ida Payne Hall. All women of our church and their friends are invited. Also attending will be women from other local churches, including many UMW supporters.

Members of our youth groups and their mothers may also want to attend and hear the exciting news about Girls on the Run, a program which teaches girls about self-respect and healthy living. Christy Howard, a member of our church, is active with this program.

Phyllis Koschik, who is chairing the event, is working to make it one of the most special ever.

Kathy Wertman, UMW president, asks Kennewick First members to RSVP to her by May 15 at redmond44@aol.com, or if you don't have email, call 308-2904. A good count will make it easier to be prepared with favors, decorations, salads, and dessert. Our UMW members always offer up a terrific array of vegetable, fruit, and special salads. Don't miss it!

Hats on for Faithful Ladies

Daughter, sister, aunt, wife, mother or grandmother,
no matter what hat we are wearing,
Being righteous is something we should strive for.

So on Mother's Day we honor faithful ladies who
Have nurtured, sacrificed for, taught,
and loved us
By worshiping the Lord while crowning our head with a hat.

Cynthia Bement

Please join me, along with Clair and Paige Phillips, the little girls who helped to inspire and dream up this event, by wearing a hat to church on Mother's Day, May 13, to honor all faithful ladies, past and present,
who have inspired us and our faith!

God has cast our confessed sins into the depths of the sea, and he's even put a "No Fishing" sign over the spot.

The Walk with Christ is not a race or fitness activity! It is an awesome three-day retreat that will renew or deepen your relationship with Christ. The objective of this ministry is to inspire, challenge, and equip local church members for Christian action in their homes, churches, places of work, and communities.

Location: KFUMC, no cost to attend
 Dates: Men's Walk is August 2-5
 Bracken Deatherage, Director
 Jim Deatherage, Vice Director
Women's Walk is August 16-19

You must be registered in advance through a person who has been on a Walk. Many people in our church have been on a Walk with Christ (Walk to Emmaus) and will be happy to answer any of your questions.

Host a Foreign Exchange Student

Once in the U.S., PAX EXCHANGE students offer unique perspectives in the classroom and at the dinner table, revel in uniquely American school spirit, volunteer in the community, improve their English every day, star in school plays, marvel at the sheer number of cereal options at the supermarket, rethink much of what they thought they knew, provide learning opportunities for the entire community, and make memories to last lifetimes (theirs and yours).

Bring an adventure to your home by hosting an exchange student. Please contact Marcella Hansen at 509-528-5550 or marcella-hansen@msn.com for more information.

Holly Daze Crafters Looking Forward To Rummage Sale

Church members who make crafts for Holly Daze are excited about the upcoming Rummage Sale. Some of your donations could help in their work for the autumn UMW fundraiser, which benefits missions at the church, locally and across the world.

So when you are sorting through your household goods for items for the May sale, please know that wide-mouthed quart jars, medium to large picture frames, tea cups with saucers, and vintage upholstery fabric for pillows are needed for Holly Daze workshops.

The Rummage Sale chair, Karen Barcot, and her wonderful helpers will gladly set these items aside for the crafting group.

Also, looking ahead, church gardeners are asked to remember when planting this spring that Holly Daze will need fall produce for the farm store, always a popular spot at the bazaar.

Holly Daze co-chairs Susan Sandmeier and Darryl Vaughn are hoping for pumpkins of all sizes, winter squash, gourds, potatoes, tomatoes, peppers, apples, grapes, melons, and a few surprises, too.

PHD May 18 & 19, the PHD group will be working on the parsonage roof, their mission project for this spring. More information will be posted on the PHD Facebook page. For those who are not on Facebook, please contact Jeff Varzandeh (509-845-0999) for more information.

Friends,

If these reflections had a title, it would include words like surprise, misunderstanding, correcting my assumptions. At our clergy/laity retreat last month at Lazy F Camp, we heard from the Rev. Lyda Pierce about how people migrate. She initiated her topic by asking all of us who had come to participate to share a brief summary of our own migrations. That could include our family origins and the migrations of our own lifetimes. Some were predictable, even routine, much like my own (50% from Britain and 50% from Germany). Others, even some who looked like me, shared different stories. Some shared stories that could not be more different from mine. Stories from Central America, stories of risk and challenge. One highlight was to hear from the Rev. Joel Rodriguez and his wife, Aurora, who have family roots in the Portland area as well as in Central America. They told us about their migrations which included joy and surprise, risk and fear. By the time our weekend concluded, I realized I had been living with some mistaken assumptions about people, economies, government, and even the church. Not surprisingly, my own family's migration story looked easy in comparison with some of those I heard that weekend. No doubt it was not. Most all migration stories contain pain and trouble of various kinds, and hopefully a measure of God's grace.

As we begin our journey through May, we will be finishing a series of messages on Christian compassion. What does compassion mean to Jesus? How did He live into compassion in His encounters with the people whose stories we read on the pages of the gospels? I could give us story after story after story. Are we compassionate people? If we are, it's because we invite the Holy Spirit to be at work in and through us. We are not up to the challenge through our own powers. Yet don't we yearn for people to respond compassionately to us and our stories? Our Bishop, Elaine Stanovsky, is inviting and challenging us to participate in "Table Talks" in May and beyond. That is, getting close enough to have conversations with people with whom we may not agree regarding questions about human sexuality and the church.

Reminds me of the recent history of the Presbyterians. During the last thirty years that denomination held conversations about those same topics. People generally (from my perspective) came to the conversations with their minds made up, and talked AT each other from meeting to meeting. Then a substantial percentage of the congregations split from the parent church, which happened to take the more liberal progressive position. Now the parent denomination is a mere shadow of its former size and influence. And congregations on both sides are wondering if they made the better choice. I don't recall being able to listen well to the stories and conversations in those years. We were all very polarized, not even knowing how to talk effectively with one another. I think Bishop Elaine is hoping that United Methodists, whether we agree with one another or not, can sit down and listen to one another, to consider the stories of each, and decide whether we can disagree and still remain in one body. I believe, finally, that we can and we should. That represents a change for me from where I stood fifteen years ago. Let's come to Central Church on May 12 (maybe take a quick break from the rummage sale to do this!) and do some intensive listening. Bishop Elaine has offered to hold Table Talks at our church if we are not able to attend Central Church that day. Did Jesus say navigating our way in His church would be easy? How easy was it for Him?

During the month of May we will be finishing the “Underground Reality Vietnam: How to Live a Faith Worth Dying For.” We will look at what it means to live out your faith with restrictions. What does it mean to you personally to be a Christian? What does it mean to you to be able to walk the journey with Christ freely? Is there a cost to being a follower of God that you don't know about that others deal with on a daily basis? These are just some of the questions we will be looking at in the coming weeks. Each week we will watch a video and learn from people in Vietnam what it means to be a Christian.

From Pastor Harriet
Hello Everyone,

In May, it will be a year since the KFUMC congregation learned that I would be appointed to Kennewick First as the associate pastor, and Jim and I were looking forward to being in ministry in the Tri-City area. Now, a year later, we are preparing to say our good-byes to you. We've enjoyed getting to know each of you. We are grateful for all the conversations and being in ministry at Kennewick First and the Tri-City community.

My final Sunday in worship will be May 27.. I will be taking May 28– June 19 off, then attending Annual Conference in Puyallup from June 20/21 – 24. Following that, I will be off from June 25–June 30. During this time, Jim and I will be taking some vacation time and will be in transition as we move to the next appointment.

I look forward to many things in my remaining time at Kennewick First: being in worship with you; joining in various youth events; being at Cornerstone; meeting with the Caregiver Support Group; discussions and conversations before and after worship and meetings; and seeing your smiles.

Many blessings to you all,
Pastor Harriet

Dear Friends,

I've had the privilege of working with Harriet these past ten months. As she announces her plans in the article you read above, I encourage you to take full advantage of our opportunity to connect with her this month and to say a fitting farewell before she heads into transition. I will see her again at Conference events in the new church year which begins July 1, but most of you will not. Along with you, I promise to keep her in my prayers and now offer my appreciation for her faithful leadership and servanthood among us during this past year.

In Him, Jerry

The Caring Congregation

Congregational Care

So deeply do we care for you that we are determined to share with you not only the gospel of God but also our own selves, because you have become very dear to us.

1 Thessalonians 2:8

"The Caring Congregation...How to become one and why it matters," is a set of books and training manuals written by Rev. Karen Lampe, who is the executive pastor of congregational care at the United Methodist Church of the Resurrection in Leawood, Kansas. I was privileged to attend Rev. Karen's last training conference, held April 19-21, in Kansas, as she is retiring in July. I am always grateful for opportunities for new learning and experiences in the Lord.

There were approximately 200 people who participated, were anointed, and sent to serve during the very faith-filled informational seminar on providing soulful care for members of a congregation, sometimes accompanied by the pastor, but often providing trained and loving care on a one-to-one basis. Please join our KFUMC pastors, Naomi McDermott, and me as we begin to discern and implement our care traditions, what is already in place, along with carrying out some new ideas as a team.

Caregivers need care, too! The Caregiver Support Group helps to fill this need. Come for a devotion and time of sharing, knowing that what is said in the group is held in confidence.

If you know of someone who is a caregiver, but cannot attend at the day and time listed, please call Harriet (909-575-8308) to make other arrangements.

Register Now for Camp!

We would like as many children, youth, and families to go to camp as possible!! Whether it's a week or a weekend, it is typically packed full of fun, challenges, friendships, adventure, learning new skills, and discovering faith while experiencing God in a whole new way! The theme this year is: This changes EVERYTHING... Ephesians 2:8 For by grace you have been saved and through faith, and this is not your own doing; it is the gift of God.

How to Register for Camp

1. Pick up a PNW camp brochure at the church office or at the church information desk and choose the camp you want to attend. Please remember that you are responsible for your own transportation.
2. On your computer go to pnwcamps.org and along the heading find registration...and then register! If you desire a paper registration form, please contact the camp of your choice and they will send one to you, or help you to register over the phone.
3. If you are an active participant of Kennewick First UMC then you are eligible for a $150 campership, so please note that on your registration form.
4. Find a friend to go with you...this is optional, but it's twice as nice to share the experience with a friend, and the church will give your friend a $50 campership.
5. Call the Church...Must do this! The church is responsible for paying the campership and needs to know who is going and when, so that the fee is paid on time.
6. The camp and conference will be in contact with you regarding a "what to bring" list.

Meet friends from around the PNW. Let your heart, soul, and mind be open and free to the surroundings at morning watch, afternoons on the lake, evenings during all camp games, and nights worshipping together underneath the stars at campfire!!

If you have any questions about camp or need assistance, please don't hesitate to contact either Pastor Harriet or Cynthia by calling 582-2163. The folks at Lazy F, Twinlow, Ocean Park, or Indianola will be filled with joy to meet and spend time with you!

Fleur-de-lis

Because the fleur-de-lis resembles a lily — a symbol of purity — it is sometimes used to represent the Virgin Mary. Due to its three-petal form, the fleur-de-lis also symbolizes the Holy Trinity.
